Fraud Alert

It has come to the attention of CIPC that there are imposters who make contact with CIPC customers to defraud them. These imposters ask customers to furnish them with their company’s details as part of CIPC campaign to update its database. Customers are advised that no CIPC official will call them from a cell phone number to verify their company or personal details.

Customers are reminded that CIPC does not have agents or representatives. The organisation’s employees can only assist customers at the CIPC offices in Pretoria and/or Cape Town.

Fraudulent acts are punishable by law and customers are encouraged to report suspicious behavior and fraudulent activities through Fraud Alert on the home page of the CIPC website on www.cipc.co.za or by emailing CIPC at fraudalert@cipc.co.za.
