

IMPORTANT NOTICE

COMPANIES AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY COMMISSION (CIPC)

NOTICE IN TERMS OF REGULATION 4 (3) OF THE TRADE MARKS ACT, ACT 194 OF 1993

1. Notice is hereby given of changes to the Tenth Edition of the International Classification of Goods and Services for the purposes of the registration of trade marks under the Nice Agreement of 15 June 1957 (as revised), published by the World Intellectual Property Organisation in 1992, including the explanatory notes and lists of goods and services published therein.
2. The changes were decided upon during the 26th session of the Committee of Experts for which the Nice Agreement provides, held in April 2016.
3. Notice is further given of the resultant amendment of Schedule 3 to the Regulations to the Trade Marks Act, Act No. 194 of 1993.
4. The changes which are listed here below, are incorporated in the Eleventh Edition of the International Classification, which may be obtained from WIPO, 34 Chemin des Colombettes, 1211 Geneva, Switzerland:

PART A: Amendments to the Nice Classification

PART B: Amendments of Schedule 3

The amendments will apply to all specifications as from 1 January 2017.

SUMMARY OF ALL CHANGES INTRODUCED IN THE GENERAL REMARKS AND THE CLASS HEADINGS

The indications of goods or services appearing in the class headings are general indications relating to the fields to which, in principle, the goods or services belong. The Alphabetical List should therefore be consulted in order to ascertain the exact classification of each individual product or service.

GOODS

If a product cannot be classified with the aid of the List of Classes, the Explanatory Notes and the Alphabetical List, the following remarks set forth the criteria to be applied:

(a) A finished product is in principle classified according to its function or purpose. If the function or purpose of a finished product is not mentioned in any class heading, the finished product is classified by analogy with other comparable finished products, indicated in the Alphabetical List. If none is found, other subsidiary criteria, such as that of the material of which the product is made or its mode of operation, are applied.

(b) A finished product which is a multipurpose composite object (e.g., clocks incorporating radios) may be classified in all classes that correspond to any of its functions or intended purposes. If those functions or purposes are not mentioned in any class heading, other criteria, indicated under (a), above, are to be applied.

(c) Raw materials, unworked or semi-worked, are in principle classified according to the material of which they consist.

(d) Goods intended to form part of another product are in principle classified in the same class as that product only in cases where the same type of goods cannot normally be used for another purpose. In all other cases, the criterion indicated under (a), above, applies.

(e) When a product, whether finished or not, is classified according to the material of which it is made, and it is made of different materials, the product is in principle classified according to the material which predominates.

(f) Cases adapted to the product they are intended to contain are in principle classified in the same class as the product.

SERVICES

If a service cannot be classified with the aid of the List of Classes, the Explanatory Notes and the Alphabetical List, the following remarks set forth the criteria to be applied:

(a) Services are in principle classified according to the branches of activities specified in the headings of the service classes and in their Explanatory Notes or, if not specified, by analogy with other comparable services indicated in the Alphabetical List.

(b) Rental services are in principle classified in the same classes as the services provided by means of the rented objects (e.g., Rental of telephones, covered by Class 38). Leasing services are analogous to rental services and therefore should be classified in the same way. However, hire- or lease-purchase financing is classified in Class 36 as a financial service.

(c) Services that provide advice, information or consultation are in principle classified in the same classes as the services that correspond to the subject matter of the advice, information or consultation, e.g., transportation consultancy (Cl. 39), business management consultancy (Cl. 35), financial consultancy (Cl. 36), beauty consultancy (Cl. 44). The rendering of the advice, information or consultancy by electronic means (e.g., telephone, computer) does not affect the classification of these services.
